

MY DREAM

" Don't laugh at me
 Don't call me names!
 Don't get your pleasure from my pain!
 In God's eyes we are all the same! "

This is a quote from a book called " Don't Laugh at Me ", by Steve Seskin. Imagine being hurt by others because your skin colour is different, your religion is different, you don't dress the same way, or eat the same food than others, or you have a handicap, or you are poor ?

MY DREAM IS ABOUT PEOPLE TREATING EACH OTHER EQUALLY AND WITH RESPECT.

I chose this dream because I want more people accepting and respecting others even if they are different! God made us equal. Unfortunately, many individuals don't treat everyone equally. No one is more important than others. We are all important! I have been learning about different religions, what they believe in, how they understand the world. I've learned about their food and their way of dressing. I have discovered amazing and surprising customs that they have. Part of my dream is to learn more about these differences. The more we know about them, the less afraid we are of differences! The more we accept and respect others that are different, the greater the chance for peace and harmony in our world! We can start by respecting people in our families and treating them well. At school, we can play with kids that are left out. We can try to help and understand people that are handicapped, have needs or are less fortunate than us. Sometimes, we need to push ourselves but it's worth it! In the future, I want to travel, meet different people, and learn about what they do! When I went to South America, I played with kids that were unlike me in many ways. We had lots of fun, I learned new things about them, and I have great memories!

I have shared my dream with you. It's a big dream but not an impossible one. Just treat others the way you like to be treated yourself!

HAVING A SISTER IS NOT AS BAD AS I THOUGHT!

A special experience that happened to me was when my mother got pregnant. You might think that I was happy when I found it out, but I was definitely not! I was very angry. I wasn't happy because for the past 9 years, I was an only child and I was very happy with that.

When my mother gave birth, everything changed. I saw I had a little sister called Alyssianna and I wasn't mad anymore because I realized that being an only child can be lonely and boring. I am happy because now, I have a little sister in my life that I can play with.
